Lynch hopes to build facilities

Randall Lynch hopes to build racquetball and squash facilities in Drayton Valley.

Lynch spoke to the recreation board last Wednesday, looking for acceptance of his plan.

Those plans call for a building 3,000 to 6,000 square feet on land next to the Park Valley indoor swimming pool, two to four racquetball and squash courts, an aerobic area, weights, locker room, sauna or steam bath and a 30-seat pub.

"I need the pub to make it work," Lynch told the recreation board.

However, Lynch will have to look for land elsewhere if he plans to proceed with his plans.

"Rotary Park is dedicated to the children. The request is out of the question," stated Mayor Bob Mayhew.

Lynch stated that if his facility was next door to the pool, it may help reduce the deficit.

While the recreation board made it clear that the land around the swimming pool wasn't available, they did offer some valuable suggestions.

It was suggested to Lynch to approach the golf club with his proposal.

Hire-A-Student office open Manager hired

The Drayton Valley hire-a-student centre has hired a new manager.

Heather Parker, 20, has started the job of finding work for local students.

A third-year psychology and sociology student from the University of Alberta, she will be running the centre for the summer.

The centre is located next to the Chamber of Commerce office at 5219 53 st. in the Old Norcen Building. The centre is open now and will be holding the grand opening next Monday, she said.

Parker can be reached at 542-7578 in the commerce office.

Last weekend, Parker took in a seminar at the University of Alberta on running the hire-a-student program and now has begun to get the office here in town into shape.

Two-price system suggested

Leduc County short on indoor pool funds

By Frank Ryan

The County of Leduc doesn't have any money for the Park Valley indoor swimming pool in Drayton Valley.

If any money is forthcoming to assist with the pool's anticipated $100,000 deficit, it will have to come from the Breton regional recreation board.

Mayor Bob Mayhew and council are pushing for a two-price system for County of Leduc swimmers that is scheduled to start June 1 if a request for $10,000 is not met.

Norm Bittner, reeve for the County of Leduc, reports they don't have any money for the swimming pool.

It is a problem the county councillors have looked into, as they have received similar requests from Leduc, Millet, Edmonton and Spruce Grove, as swimming pools in those locations handle County of Leduc swimmers.

"If we give to one, we have to give money to three or four," remarked Bittner.

"We have to be accountable to the ratepayers. If we are to give funds to all those pools, the recreation mill rate would have to be increased," Bittner added.

Bittner is suggesting that the $10,000 requested by the town of Drayton Valley has to come from the Breton regional recreation board.

At the present time Parkland County contributes $27,000 or 27 per cent toward the pool's deficit. Town council has decided that the County of Wetaskiwin and Improvement District 14 would not be required to help with the deficit as not enough people from those areas are using the pool.

Clean-up program set May 13-17

The Town of Drayton Valley will be cleaning up during the week of May 13 to May 17.

Anyone living in town will get their lawn clippings, tree clippings and other rubbish, with the exception of household garbage, picked up free.

On Monday, May 13, all residential areas west of 50th Street will have their spring garbage picked up. Tuesday and Wednesday they will be picking up refuse from all residential areas north of 50th Avenue and east of 50th Street.

On Thursday and Friday, the 16th and 17th, residents south of 50th Avenue and east of 50th Street will have their garbage picked up.

Local residents are being asked to do their spring clean-up this week and leave any refuse at the back of their properties for pickup.

The landfill site will be open during this week until 9 p.m.

Taps reopened but oil patch still wary

By Neil Speers

Possibilities of restrictions on oil production still loom over some local companies after the holdback last month by the ERCB.

Lyle Hammond of Dome Petroleum said lifting the restriction earlier this month "means quite a bit to us."

He explained Dome had been restricted by 800 cubic meters per month, which is more than half of the possible 1440 cubic meters they can ship.

The restrictions came when the Interprovincial Pipeline could not handle the volume of oil being put through. Throughout Alberta, a restriction of 65,000 barrels per-day was imposed by the ERCB to alleviate the problem.

"It (the restriction) would have been pretty serious if it had continued," said Hammond.

Wayne Heth from Amoco was not too concerned even though his company was restricted by 1500 barrels per-day last month. He explained most of the company's production is under the restricted levels.

However, the restriction took about a third of the company's production in the Drayton Valley area, said Heth.

Some local companies, such as Mobil Oil, went without restrictions because their full production was under the allowable levels. Dwight Campbell of Mobil says the company is on what is called a "good production practice," and is not affected by the restrictions.

Pool users caught in middle

It's regrettable that the town of Drayton Valley has to go the way of a two-price system for the Park Valley swimming pool for County of Leduc users.

Caught in the middle of this issue, between the town and the County of Leduc, are approximately 500 swimmers and the Breton regional recreation board.

The town is requesting $10,000 to assist with the pool's anticipated $100,000 deficit. The County of Leduc doesn't have the money and has turned the issue over to the Breton group.

The regional recreation board, the closest to Drayton Valley which receives $40,000 from the County of Leduc, is faced with not having enough money for their own budget let alone handing over $10,000 to Drayton Valley.

Even the thought of a two-price system has many users from the County of Leduc upset.

The new Park Valley Pool is just one facility they use in Drayton Valley. While the kids are off swimming, the parents are busy spending money in town.

This issue is already causing some bad feeling, and that's unfortunate.

The two-price system the town is looking at implementing June 1 is really a ploy to get funds from the County of Leduc. Being held ransom are the users.

Stuck in the woods

This press seed drill is really stuck in the past. The drill, which is northeast of the Alake Corner, hasn't been used in a long time as evident by the tree that tried to grow through it but ended up going around.

The Breton group, now faced with forking over $10,000 before June 1 have entertained some thoughts of their own swimming pool.

That would be unfortunate for both sides.

The regional recreation board would find it very costly to build and maintain their own pool. The town could lose the 500 County of Leduc users they currently have and at the same time, a lot of money that comes into the town could be lost.

Everyone's hoping a solution can be found before June 1.

Deol wearing several 'hats' in town

Oh, how sweet it is!

Both Montreal and the Islanders have been eliminated from the Stanley Cup race.

The Habs' exit leaves us wondering if Mike K. will answer his phone now on hockey nights and if Stuart A. has jumped on the Oilers' bandwagon.

Communications is a big part of our job. Without people's help, our job would be much tougher.

With that, a sincere thanks to Brenda Prentice for her assistance at the recent high school conference - badminton playoffs at Frank Maddock high school.

If your home or business was hit by that hail storm last June, a friendly reminder that June 30 is the deadline for claims.

It was a big weekend for our family. My wife, Bette-Lou and the three kids arrived from Red Deer last Friday to take up official residence at their new home in Drayton Valley.

I also moved. For the past four months I stayed with June and Jerry Merwin on their acreage at Violet Grove. It was four very enjoyable months.

Thanks to everyone who made me feel welcome since arriving in January. Our family is looking forward to a new life here.

Parkland County school maintenance crews were seen in Drayton Valley last week painting crosswalks.

Lines around town could certainly use some paint.

Drayton Valley town manager Manny Deol will have his hands full these next couple of months.

Besides his own work he has been filling in for municipal secretary Bob Dykes, and now he's interim recreation director following the firing of Dennis Woolsey last week.

Woosley bids fond farewell to residents

By Dennis Woosley
former Drayton Valley recreation director
This is my formal good-bye to Drayton Valley and the people I have been pleased to meet while in the employ of the town.

Even though my parting is on terms less than desirable, I would like you all to know that I truly enjoyed my experiences and believe I can leave with my head held high. The records of my accomplishments will display through time that I was given the opportunity to help the community develop and with the assistance by many people, indeed some significant steps were taken.

With my recognition that one cannot take major strides without the help of others, I feel it is important to provide those that remain within the town's system and that may follow, with the knowledge of what I believe has happened to me so that the situation can possibly be not a recurring one.

For this reason, in support of those who have helped me and also to provide those who are continuing to support me through their concern over my release, this personal analysis of the situation is being written.

I would like to say that there was no previous indication or warning to me of any dissatisfaction of my efforts by the town. My firing came completely by shock and without any opportunity to defend myself or explain my actions.

Granted, memos were forwarded to me from time to time regarding the necessity of following procedures and policy. Such memos indicated procedures for hiring staff etc. which I believe I corrected myself and followed not only to the satisfaction of the town but also to the union which we are contractually-bound to follow and in which I always had adhered to.

The so-called straw that broke the camel's back was the purchase of a chocolate bar machine for the swimming pool. Before I explain the situation I feel it is important to provide some historical data on some of the occurrences which led to the virtually completed facility you have today.

Woosley put a lot of work into the new pool.

Problems have existed from the very start as first of all, it was believed a quality facility was unaffordable and upon the tenders being received, almost too much money was available as $1,570,000 in revenues became available and only approximately $1.1 million was required.

comment

Council in their wisdom approved expansion to five lanes and a number of items which will lead to a very efficient quality facility. Throughout this process many hours were spent and reports written to keep council and administration aware of goings on.

Their schedules must be flexible, responding to referrals made by doctors, hospital nurses, family members and possibly the clients themselves. We help to keep our clients thriving and independent by providing nursing services and aiding in personal care as well as all other activities of daily living. Thus we assist these people (possibly your own parents) to remain in the familiar surrounding of their homes and out of institutions.

Health unit nurses must be aware of all community resources so that clients may, if necessary, be referred on to the appropriate agencies that will optimally benefit them in their situation.

In our occupation we encounter the community on their terms, not knowing how we will be accepted. We adapt to a wide variety of living standards, family relationships and even to their pets (be they friendly or hostile!). The challenge continues as we adjust our care to directly involve the clients and their families, taking into account their attitudes, beliefs, capabilities and responsiveness.

We care so deeply and strive to promote an optimal level of healthy independence.

Please phone or write your health unit board: Mr. Wayne Sawyer, chairman, 865-3035, 120 Dorin Drive, Hinton, Dr. N. Bayliss, 723-4421, Alberta West Central Health Unit, Box 1718, Edson. Voice your support and encourage the board to settle this strike in a quick and fair manner.

The future of quality preventive health care rests with you!

Drivers speed past Rotary Park

Dear Editor,

Sitting at my kitchen window, with an eastern view of Rotary Park, three cars sped by within a span of five minutes.

Along with green grass, sunshine and that rush of spring-fever, let's try not to forget our innocent pedestrians — the children.

As a Block Parent in our community, I have observed many children in various situations or shall I say predicaments, in our park. Most of our offspring observe the basic rules of stopping, looking both ways and then cautiously crossing the street. Stray dogs, older, more aggressive children or just plain negligence can cause a child to dash out and cross the street with no warning.

In the past years our local RCMP have been a tremendous help controlling the speeding through the park areas with extra patrolling.

Please let this be a friendly reminder to our overly zealous drivers, and our local RCMP.

Thank you,
Kim Parenteau

Dear Editor,

Community health nurses are at the forefront of preventive health care from pre-conception to death and would like to inform your readers why this is so.

We teach prenatal classes to prepare couples for a better birth experience. We often have an opportunity to carry on this teaching when seeing them again in the hospital following delivery. Continuity in support is evident as we visit these new families in their home. At this time we perform a complete nursing physical assessment on their newborn. If there are any concerns voiced by the parents we discuss these and answer their many questions. Information sought commonly deals with nutrition for both mom and babe, safety, developmental milestones and family planning.

Counseling services are available by our hereditary disease nurse in order to help prospective parents make informed family planning decisions.

Developmental testing is performed routinely during your child's preschool years at regular clinic visits. These measures catch physical and/or psychological problems in their early stages.

Our extensive immunization program is instrumental in preventing communicable diseases. It is because of this problem that only a few of us can remember the devastation caused by diphtheria, whooping cough, polio, smallpox, measles and tuberculosis outbreaks. An equally important part of communicable disease control includes the surveillance of such illnesses as the many childhood diseases, food poisonings, beaver fever and tuberculosis.

Let's not forget about our involvement with your child in the school system. We perform vision, hearing and health checks in various grades, follow up handicapped children, monitor communicable diseases, assist in teaching sexuality, immunize selected children and provide support to teachers in the areas of health or family problems.

Other home visits made involve those who are mentally, emotionally and/or physically handicapped. We follow seniors in our community, especially those living alone, those with minimal family support and those with physical ailments. It is not uncommon to find we drive 50 km/day, often in bad weather and poor road conditions.

In addition to health promotion, the community health nurses are also involved in early treatment of disease through the Home Care Program.

Dog patrols increased to solve problems

By Neil Speers

A one-month blitz to clean up the dog problem in Drayton Valley has begun.

Animal control officer Danny Cruthers is working 32 hours per week — twice his normal hours — and has hired an extra person to help. The dog pound, which he owns, is already full, he says.

He says the problems come from both sides, "from people, and from dogs."

"People should know all dogs have to be confined to their yard...Dogs are not allowed on the street without a leash," says Cruthers.

He says the people who seem to get the maddest are the ones who let their dogs run free and do not have dog licenses. Cruthers says there was one person in town who paid more than $400 in fines to continually get his dogs out of the pound.

"They couldn't get it across to him that other people don't want his dogs in their yards," Cruthers says.

He says only two of about 14 dogs he has picked up in the last month have been claimed.

People have three working days to claim a dog from the pound, located out by the sewage treatment plant. After that time, the dogs are supposed to be destroyed. Cruthers, however, admits he often keeps the dogs a little longer. "Hopefully to find a new home for them if nobody claims them."

Having a licence for a dog is extremely important as Cruthers says he will return a dog to the owner if the address is in the records.

Unfortunately, he still has to destroy some dogs, which he does himself.

He says it is easiest to find dogs at trailer parks and at the schools. Many parents and teachers are concerned, he says, because the children may get bitten.

In his four years in animal control, Cruthers says he has only been bit once by a large dog, and thousands of times by small dogs.

Cruthers says he does not use a tranquillizer gun because it takes 15 minutes for the tranquillizer to work and the dog could go a long way in that time. He added he cannot find a course in Alberta to use such a gun so he would not over-tranquillize a dog.

Almost $6,000 was raised in the second annual Ride-Against-Cancer held last weekend southwest of Drayton Valley.

Approximately 45 riders ranging in age from seven to 64 took part in the ride to raise money for cancer research.

Organizer Michelle Urchysyn said the ride was very successful and they had good co-operation from the weather for the annual event.

Last year the local ride, sponsored by the Sun Valley Equestrian Centre, raised $3,800 and Urchysyn said she was happy with the increase this year.

She hopes next year they will get even more response and more money brought in.

The event is held every year on the first Sunday in May and the money is collected before the ride starts.

Hospital Day set

The Drayton Valley and District Health Complex will celebrate Hospital Day on Friday, May 10.

The event commemorates Florence Nightingale's birthday.

A bake sale and tea is scheduled for May 10 at the hospital with the sale running from 1 to 4 p.m. and tea available from 2 to 4 p.m.

Tours of the hospital, which will officially mark their first year in the new facility May 22, will be held May 10 from 1 to 3 p.m.

The Breton General Hospital Auxiliary is more than 22 years young and still going strong.

The 19 members (including four charter members) are currently involved in preparing for the annual Hospital Day tea (May 10) and are currently running a raffle to be drawn on the same day.

During their history, the auxiliary has raised substantial funds for a number of pieces of equipment for the hospital. These recently include, among others, contributions towards a fetal heart monitor, parallel bars for physiotherapy, and a commode wheelchair. The list of items purchased through funds raised by this ambitious group are too numerous to list here, but have touched every area of patient care.

The activities they organize to raise the funds include teas and bake sales, raffles, making quilts and other crafts, running the hospital canteen, holding canvassing drives, and their annual community Christmas card. Other activities have included whist drives, bobo teas, travelling aprons and cribbage parties.

The auxiliary also provide gifts for New Year's babies, give Easter and Christmas trays, treats, brush and comb sets to every baby, bur-saries for local persons entering health-related fields, sew quilts and knit mitts for the Red Cross and run a meals-on-wheels service.

Thompson bulls proved formidable for the high school riders.

Break away roping tested marksmanship.

High school rodeo a success

Teenagers ride in Millbank

Teen-aged cowboys from across the province took part in two days of rodeo action May 4-5 at the Millbank Rodeo Grounds.

The high school rodeo featured all the major events including bareback, saddle broncs, bull riding and calf roping.

Thompson rodeo stock gave the riders a run for their money and often proved to be the stronger of the two.

High River bull rider John Glover is able to vouch for that fact after falling victim to a bull's horns and being carried out of the arena on a stretcher. He sustained only minor injuries.

At the end of Sunday's competition Wade Galloway of Rocky Mountain House emerged the winner in the bareback event with Dexter Bruisedhead of Standoff coming in second.

Markerville's Troy Budvarson took top honors in the saddle bronc contest and John Davies of Rocky Mountain House came in second. Local cowboy Jim Thompson of Tomahawk was third.

Jim Thompson also ended the rodeo as top bull rider with Joe Chamberlain of Spruceview coming in second.

Olint and Robert Bruisedhead of Standoff dominated steer wrestling, coming in first and second, respectively.

The rodeo's top calf roper was Darren Shaw of Cardston. Alliance's Brian Spady was second.

Dean King of Arrowwood was first in cutting, with Kathy Tolonem of Eckville finishing in second spot.

Troy Budvarson and Kevin McNut of Markerville took top honors in team roping with Alliance's Brian and Craig Spady taking second. The Drayton Valley team of Todd Sullivan and Dean Tuftin came in fourth.

Wendy Longeway of Springbank emerged the winner in barrel racing and Tracy Hood of Edmonton was second.

The goat tying event was captured by Patricia Kostelansky of Lethbridge, Shelley Houston of Eckville and Leanne Bourgerolle of Seba Beach finished in second and third spots, respectively.

Edmonton's Tracy Hood took top spot in pole bending with Patricia Kostelansky emerging in second spot.

Leanne Bourgerolle of Seba Beach claimed first place in break away roping and also won the girls' all-round buckle. Markerville's Troy Budvarson won the boys' all-round buckle.

Goat tying offered a challenge to the girls.

Broncs gave contestants rough rides as well.

No one 'in the know' is saying why the town of Drayton Valley parted company with recreation director Dennis Woolsey.

But the facts of the case are that town council called a special meeting Saturday, May 4 to discuss something their recreation director had done or hadn't done.

When he reported to work two days later, Woolsey was informed of council's decision. Woolsey called it a SUPRISE MOVE. He didn't comment other than to say he was given a number of reasons.

As we understand it, the town has a long list of recreation directors — something like seven in the last nine years.

Woolsey's departure comes at a bad time of the year. He was busy helping several groups line up diamonds, etc. for the summer schedule.

It could be two months before the town advertises the position, conducts interviews and moves their new recreation director into town.

In the interim the position will be handled by town manager Manny Deol.

In last week's column we mentioned some much-needed help for minor soccer.

They had gone to the recreation and cultural board looking for help but came away empty handed.

We're glad to report things have worked out. It was reported at last Wednesday's recreation and cultural meeting that several pairs of highway paint, used to paint soccer fields, had arrived at the town's shop.

They've been given to soccer to paint their fields and a couple of other playing fields in town.

A deficit is a major item of concern for the 1986 Alberta Senior Games hosts...the town of Drayton Valley.

But they shouldn't be worried. Good people are in place to go out and raise the funds and they may just end up like the 1983 Summer Games' people did.

That year, the games were held in the County of Mountain View and they report a $113,000 surplus.

While the early problem in Drayton Valley is over a deficit, the Olds committee are still working out plans on how to spend their windfall. Do you suppose they might consider a loan?

Kinsmen president Terry Drader reports a new BMX track at West Valley Park is high on the club's priority list.

Just as soon as the equipment can be organized, the Kinsmen will get to the new sports facility.

We may be calling for volunteers for this job also.

Facilities not ready

Town shelves ball user fees

User fees for facilities at West Valley Park in Drayton Valley have been shelved.

The recreation board made it unanimous last Wednesday when they moved that user fees be put on hold until the town could offer proper facilities.

The decision came on the heels of two delegation presentations by minor baseball and the Oilers baseball team.

The matter of user fees surfaced more than a month ago when it was suggested by the recreation director that youth teams be charged $1.50 per night per diamond, while adult teams were looking at $3 per diamond per night.

Most of the users at West Valley Park were not against the amount, but voiced concern over who was going to do the work if the town implemented a user fee. Much of the work at West Valley Park has been through volunteer labor and volunteer materials.

Minor baseball president Mickey McDowell told the recreation board, "Our feeling is that $2,000 (the amount to be generated by the user fee) won't do anything."

Where the user fee would end up was another concern of minor ball.

"Where is the price going to stop? At $1.50 or $20?" McDowell added.

Parry Mohn, reading from a prepared statement, said the Oilers baseball club was against the user fee.

"I don't think we should have to pay and do the work," Mohn stated.

After making their presentation, the Oilers stayed until the board made their decision not to introduce the user fees this season.

Leagues start

Golf season now underway

The Drayton Valley golf course is shaping up despite some problems with winter kill.

Club pro Howard Vickers said they will be using temporary greens this week but will switch to permanent greens by the weekend.

Two improvements to the course are the reconstruction of the first tee and the building of a new cart shed, which has not started yet.

Vickers said the ladies' league started this week and the men's league will begin next week (May 14).

About 150 golfers per day took advantage of the course over the weekend.

Stallion show

Royal Lipizzans coming to Drayton Valley in July

The world famous Royal Lipizzan stallion show will visit Drayton Valley on Friday, July 5.

The visit has been arranged by the minor baseball association as one of their major fund-raisers.

The Royal Lipizzan stallion show will be held outdoors at West Valley Park.

They will stop in Drayton Valley as part of a cross-Canada tour.

Meanwhile on the diamonds, the '85 ball season started Monday with 155 youngsters answering the umpires' call to PLAY BALL.

Official registration heading into the new season is 155, well short of the 310 the organization reported last year.

This year's lineup includes four T-ball teams, four playing girls' ball, three mosquito, two bantam and two beaver.

President Mickey McDowell is disappointed with the poor turnout. There will be no midget team as only two players registered and no one signed up for a bison team. The number of beaver teams has dropped from four last year to two this year.

McDowell doesn't have the answers for the drastic drop in registrations. "I know of some kids playing fastball and ball hockey," McDowell explained to the drop in registration.

Danny Thompson, minor ball president last year says, "I know of some kids not playing."

Both McDowell and Thompson are optimistic more kids will come out to play when the games start.

"We started with 282 and ended up with 310 last year," Thompson explained about the late starters.

Despite their numbers, minor ball is busy with a new diamond at West Valley Park and getting prepared for the bantam 'A' baseball provincials in August.

Clinic a success

A variety of sports were represented at the Level 1 coaches theory clinic held this past weekend in Drayton Valley.

Thirteen people representing boxing, gymnastics, swimming, hockey and baseball attended the two-day clinic.

Jim Crammer, the past president of the Alberta Baseball Association, was guest instructor for the clinic.

Participants were given instruction on planning practices, handling kids and dealing with injuries.

Organizer John

Sullivan said he was happy with the clinic and what was learned.

Minor ball

Town pay half the cost for diamond sod

One of the three new ball diamonds at West Valley Park in Drayton Valley will be sodded in time for the 1985 season.

The cost will be shared by the town and minor baseball.

Minor baseball president Mickey McDowell approached the recreation and culture board last Wednesday for money to help sod the southwest diamond at West Valley Park.

He told the board that it would cost $3,800 for the sod and an additional $1,200 for the trucking.

Late last Thursday afternoon minor ball learned that the town had decided to contribute $1,800. Minor ball will pick up the balance of the sod price tag and McDowell is hopeful that the trucking costs will be donated.

The sod will be coming from Commonwealth Stadium in Edmonton. A large work party will be needed to lay the sod the weekend of May 24, 25 and 26.

Minor ball has been pushing for the diamond to be sodded, as it will be needed for the bantam 'A' baseball provincials to be hosted by Drayton Valley in August.

Originally, the town had planned to seed all three diamonds this year.

The $1,800 the town came up with for assisting with the sodding comes from a $7,500 budget the town had for the diamonds.

Ceasars' Mulgrew assists

Rookie Dean Mulgrew set up three goals as Ceasars Inn of Drayton Valley downed visiting Sundance Strikers 4-0 Sunday afternoon in a senior men's exhibition soccer match.

Peter Kelepouris and Rod Bealer, two of six returnees with Ceasars, scored two goals each.

Mulgrew's three assists drew a lot of praise from Ceasar playing-coach Blair Little.

"He's a good, intelligent play maker," is how Little described Mulgrew's debut in a Ceasars' uniform.

Little didn't expect such results in Ceasars' first taste of action.

"I didn't think the game would go this way or we play as well. We have seven new faces in the lineup," Little explained.

Little was also impressed with the Strikers' play. "They're a lot better than last year," he added.

Both teams, who play in the Central Alberta Rural Towns senior men's soccer loop, start league play May 15 when they meet in a re-match.

Cyclists to meet

Drivers from as far away as Calgary, Edmonton and possibly Ahbabasca will line up for the Drayton Valley Motorcycle Club's cross-country meet Saturday.

Drivers should arrive for a 10 a.m. meeting and registration with the race starting at 11 a.m.

Racers will be divided into expert and junior classes with each class being split into over and under 200 cc groups.

This year a new open class has been created for ATVs (three or four wheelers).

The race is being held two miles east of Cynthia at the old gravel stock pile and the participants will be riding around a 20-mile loop.

Richard Garratt, with the motorcycle club, said the experts will make three laps of the loop, the juniors two and the ATVs will make one.

Organizers are expecting about 35 riders.

Don't smoke is message from science fair winners

By Neil Speers

"Don't smoke" was the message of two Grade 8 students from the Tomahawk school at a recent science fair.

Cori Boorse and Darcie Wirstiuk, both 13, did a series of experiments on how smoking affects people. Scoring a perfect 100 in their own school's fair, the two went on the Parkland divisional science fair to take third place.

On their display, the question what is the effect of smoking was answered with "smoking disrupts the mental, physical and emotional abilities we possess."

Experiments they did to demonstrate their point included taking the pulse rate of a smoker and non-smoker before and after riding an exercise bike for five minutes.

"The smoker couldn't keep up his pace on the bike after three minutes," commented Wirstiuk. Other experiments the two did included an evaluation of breaths per minute, ability to do quick multiplication before and after smoking, and co-ordination.

They said about 24 hours of work went into putting their project together. Material for the display came from sources such as AADAC and a cancer clinic.

Other projects at the Tomahawk school science fair included an extensive model of a rodeo arena made by Roy Thompson.

Hammerlindl to attend Olds meeting

The Drayton Valley branch of the Women's Institute dealt with a very full agenda at their April meeting.

Florence Romano reported that the Easter ham raffle had been successful. The winners are: Gerie Love, Ervin Rendflesh, Wes Bouck, Marnella Urchysyn, Brenda Malone and Dale Rendflesh. The WI appreciates the support of all those who bought tickets.

The Alberta WI convention will be held at Olds May 27 to 30. This year the theme is Winds of Change. Winnie Hammerlindl will be the official delegate. Colleen Dixson and Florence Romano will also attend.

There will be a plant and white elephant sale in the Derrick Mall on May 24 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Colleen Dixson, Betty Bouck and Winnie Hammerlindl reported on the constituency conference.

There was considerable discussion of the methods to be used to get donations to Win House for the use of women and children using that facility.

In June there will be potluck supper with invited guests.

The May meeting is scheduled for May 21 at Doreen Gustafson's home.

In a report on the environment the convener emphasized the need for careful land use, providing a suitable habitat for birds and animals and for re-forestation.

Hey, do-it-yourselfers! You'll find all the tools and equipment you need to get the job done by looking in the Classifieds ads.

Merchants behind auction

Twenty-five Drayton Valley merchants have donated gifts for a May 25 auction sale in aid of Easter Seals.

Century 21 Hi Point Realty will be part of a Canada-wide campaign later this month to raise funds for Easter Seals. Staff at Hi Point Realty will join fellow workers across the country May 25 with an auction sale and a garage sale, with proceeds going to the Easter Seal campaign.

Both events will be held at the Drayton Valley curling rink. Indoors if the weatherman doesn't cooperate or outdoors if it's nice.

Merchants who would like to contribute to the auction sale should call Natalie Gibson at 542-3223. Call the same number if you have items to donate to the garage sale.

Dykes resigns due to health

By Edith Deby

Oliver Hodgson underwent major surgery this spring. After three weeks in hospital she decided to give up her job managing the bus depot and spend the summer at home recuperating. Joyce Dusterhoft is taking her place at the bus depot. Bob Dykes has been forced to resign as town secretary for health reasons.

Get well wishes to Leo Jensen in the hospital. May and Nick Urchysky, now of Summerland, B.C. were in town last week to attend Ted and Patsy Mastre's 40th wedding anniversary held at the Petroleum Club in Edmonton.

The birds are coming back and so are the fortunate people who can flee Alberta winters. Among these are Dean and Kay Meraw who were visitors at Ken and Cheryl Repas lately. Edna Van Ember, daughter Debbie and granddaughter were visitors at May Jorgenson's and other relatives recently.

An error in the Breton news had Janene and Rocky's shower as a baby shower. It was a bridal shower. Sorry for the misunderstanding.

The kids at the Lindale school are planning their walk-a-thon for Monday, May 13.

The annual Mother's Day pancake breakfast will be held at the Lindale Hall May 12. It is sponsored by the Lindale School Association.

The first gymkhana will be May 12 at the Lindale Hall.

The community extends sympathy to Mel Tugman on the death of his father recently.

spent two months in southern California and George and Teresa Comeau who spent the winter in Arizona.

Lois Ross has been discharged from the hospital but is still in the city.

Eva Wapshott has just returned from a three-week stay on the Pacific coast.

The Historical Society is grateful to Tom Ross for his donation of clippings and pictures of Drayton Valley in the 50s.

Red Deer Challenge

DUTI program picked up across Canada

The Red Deer Challenge has been picked up by at least 50 communities across Canada and the number is increasing almost daily.

Efforts in the Alberta city of 50,000 to combat impaired driving through a pioneering, grass-roots approach spearheaded by the Red Deer Optimist Club, were documented Dec. 1 in a one-hour CTV national television special, sponsored by the Insurance Bureau of Canada. The "Drinking Drivers: The Red Deer Challenge" telecast created such a groundswell of interest that Red Deer Optimists have set up an office with a 24-hour telephone hotline and appointed an executive director to co-ordinate requests for information on their DUTI (Driving Under the Influence) program.

Program available

The Red Deer service organization has also developed a program operations manual complete with school curriculum information, seminar videos, ads for print, radio and television. Safe Grad videos and other program aids, which is being offered at a nominal fee to other Optimist Clubs as well as interested community and organizations in Canada and the United States.

The national potential of the program to change public attitudes toward drinking and driving has impressed Carling O'Keefe Breweries sufficiently to warrant a $50,000 donation towards production of DUTI implementation kits and other materials.

The Co-Operators Insurance Company has donated space for DUTI headquarters in its Red Deer branch office to accommodate Executive Director Don Leach, originally the program's publicity director, and a full-time secretary.

IBC has developed a condensed 25-minute video-tape version of "Drinking Drivers: The Red Deer Challenge" which retains all the basic elements of the DUTI program and may be borrowed, without charge, from any IBC office. The tape is suitable for viewing by service clubs, interest groups and students and is serving as an excellent stimulator for other committees.

As part of its continuing three-year "What are you doing about it?" campaign against drinking and driving, the Bureau will also be providing other in-kind assistance to Red Deer Optimists as their program takes on anticipated long-term international proportions. The concept of IBC's original mass media drive was: "You are your brother's keeper", an approach which asked friends, relatives and co-workers to assume personal responsibility for keeping impaired drivers off the road.

How it all started

"Early last year we selected Red Deer as a model Canadian city where the concept of community involvement could be tested and measured," explained CTV's Jack McGaw, who has hosted and produced all of IBC's loss reduction specials. The Optimists, one of more than 20 service groups in Red Deer, enthusiastically agreed to become involved in the "Challenge" and the DUTI program was developed and carried out under CTV cameras from the inception stage in April.

Goldfarb Consultants of Toronto were commissioned by IBC in May to measure public attitudes on drinking and driving in Red Deer as the program got underway. The study was repeated again in October and the comparative results, reflecting the DUTI program's effectiveness, were presented during the December telecast. Goldfarb also updated a national study carried out for IBC in conjunction with the forerunning "National Attitudinal Test" (on drinking and driving) and the results were also a part of the Red Deer Challenge production.

The special focused on the Optimist's DUTI program and included a segment on a free bus service provided for high school graduation parties in the community during June. The Optimists also hired substitute teachers to allow Red Deer high school teachers to attend special lectures on the dangers of drinking and driving. They also encouraged Red Deer citizens to elect "designated drivers" who agree in advance not to consume alcohol during the course of the evening so that others may be assured of a safe ride home from parties, in addition to promoting a special taxi "voucher" idea in conjunction with local merchants and drinking establishments.

A testament to the impact that DUTI has had on Red Deer is the fact that police made only 60 arrests for impaired driving in the city during festive season spot checks in December of 1984, compared to 115 for the same month the year before.

Balance and co-ordination are essential for bicyclers.

Slowly riding your bike in a straight line takes skill.

Bike safety clinic a good exercise

Children can never be reminded too many times about bicycle safety.

And with that in mind, Eldorado school once again held its annual bicycle safety clinic.

Children's safety is important and we're trying to instill in them traffic rules, said principal Howard Pearson.

"This year we started with a safety presentation from Alberta Transportation."

Youngsters in Grades 1 and 2 learn proper hand signals, do figure 8s, practice braking and have their bikes inspected all in an effort to impress upon them the importance of safety.

Country children as well as those who live in town are given an opportunity to bring their bikes for the clinic. "Parents of bus students bring the bikes in and we store them in the gym."

But children without bicycles are not left out, Pearson said. "They get in-class sessions about safety."

"From a point of view of life and safety, the clinic is important. It makes the kids think."

Fortunately the children seem to enjoy the session, he said.

"I think they're quite enthused and positive about it."

Parent volunteers have given the clinic good support too, he said.

These students wait in line for their bike inspection.

Big month for Dale Warren

People

This is turning out to be a big month for Dale Warren.

On May 1 the 12-year resident of Drayton Valley purchased McMillan's Auto Body. Everything will remain the same except for the change in ownership and the name. It's now Valley Auto Body.

Later this month Warren will celebrate the first anniversary of the Drayton Valley Health Complex. He was chairman of the hospital board when the complex opened on May 22 last year.

Besides spending four years on the hospital board Warren has been very active in the community.

He has spent seven seasons on the Drayton Valley Minor Hockey Association executive and has coached teams from mites to midgets. In 1977-78 he was a member of the bantam 'B' team that won a provincial title.

Warren also spent two years on the minor ball and golf executives. When time permits, he plays golf in the men's league and attends local tournaments.

He also enjoys hunting and his wife Joy, son Craig and daughter Tanya have two horses, which allows them to enjoy the outdoors in the summer months.

Warren was born and raised at Alix, east of Red Deer. After high school he joined CN Rail, working on the line from Jasper to Vancouver. That job took him to Kamloops, where he was signal foreman.

Twelve years ago Warren came to Drayton Valley and a position with the county police. After three years with them, he became the owner/operator of Drayton Valley Ambulance. He sold that business in 1976 and became a partner in McMillan's Auto Body.

He's looking forward to the challenge of his own business and many more years in Drayton Valley.

Ron Dahl says

Teacher salary settlements lower than cost of living

The trend in teacher salary agreements in the province has resulted in settlements of two or more percentage points behind the rises in the cost of living, says the president of the Parkland County local of the Alberta Teachers' Association.

Ron Dahl says this trend has gone on for "a good number of years."

While he will not comment directly about the negotiations now underway on behalf of the county's teachers "in order to afford our negotiators the chance to proceed as effectively as possible," Dahl says much of what is evident in other areas in Alberta can be applied directly to the local situation.

The result of settlements for percentage below the increase in the cost of living has been a steady erosion of teachers' purchasing power and a drop in their standard of living.

"Nevertheless, teachers throughout the province have continued to carry the burdens of constantly increasing class sizes, continuous additional intrusions on what had been considered the basic role of the school, calamities resulting from social and economic disruptions in the lives of our students and callous disregard and lack of recognition for the countless hours spent on co-curricular and extra-curricular activities."

The Alberta School Trustees' Association has exhibited an attitude of "ill-considered intrusiveness" during the collective bargaining process, Dahl says.

"Once again, we are hearing the clarion call to 'hold the line' and accept a zero-per cent increase."

"The president of the ASTA has characterized us as greedy and insensitive for daring to ask, once again, for meager increases that would see our economic status drop even further behind."

The public would be justifiably upset about the adoption of ill-considered bargaining positions by either the teachers or the school boards in the province, Dahl says.

"In my view, offering a zero-per cent increase for 1985 is not only ill-considered but it is an insult to a group of the most dedicated and hard-working professionals anywhere."

As it stands the boards have little or nothing to lose by waiting, Dahl says.

The teachers continue to offer "an extraordinary level of service" even without a collective agreement.

"They (the boards) can wait; but is continuing to proffer the ASTA mandated proposal of no increase really 'bargaining in good faith'?"

Dahl says he is getting "a little tired of the constant denigration of one of the most important tasks afforded this or any other generation: the education of future generations."

Each individual teacher in the county will have the right and opportunity to vote on any proposed salary agreement, he says.

The county local makes decisions in an "open and democratic manner" independent of the Alberta Teachers' Association professional staff.

Motorcycle thieves sought

Crime Stoppers want to catch the thieves responsible for stealing two motorcycles. During the night of March 30 or early morning of the 31st, two Honda dirt bikes were stolen from a red pickup truck parked at the Matador Motel in Drayton Valley. The two motorbikes were in the back of the truck under a locked canopy. The thieves cut the locks off the canopy and removed the following two bikes:

125 CC Honda (red with blue seat)

Serial no. JH2JK0108DC406395

250 CC Honda (red with blue seat)

Serial no. JH2ME0302DC503703

Total value: $4,600.

sons responsible for this theft. If you have information on this or any other criminal offence, call Crime Stoppers toll free at 1-800-922-TIPS (922-8477). You do not have to reveal your identity and if your information leads to an arrest you qualify for a reward.

Half of questionnaires answered

Less than 50 per cent of the recreation questionnaires sent out to groups in Drayton Valley were returned by the deadline.

The recreation board learned last week that 50 of 110 questionnaires sent out were returned. The recreation department sent the questionnaires out to gather information needed for their master plan and to assist in making grant applications.

Some thought was given at last week's meeting to extending the deadline for the questionnaires, but it was decided to go with what questionnaires had been gathered.

Town manager Manny Deol, who is also acting recreation director, said he was satisfied with the returns.

"I've contacted my group twice. If they don't want to send it in, what can you do?" stated recreation chairman Jane Kwas.

Proper legume inoculation necessary for good growth

By Laurel MacDonald

Establishing new hay or pasture land? Don't underestimate the importance of inoculating your legumes prior to seeding.

By doing a proper job of inoculating, forage yields can be greatly increased, while N requirements from your soil and fertilizer are decreased.

Some tips for successful inoculation:

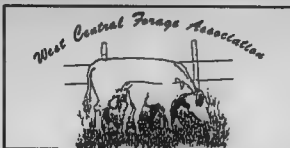

1. A sticker is required when mixing seed and inoculant to assure the bacteria will be available to the plant roots.

Corn syrup or milk are commonly used and recipes for the mixtures are available at the agriculture office. Water is not recommended.

2. When buying inoculant, check the expiry date as the bacteria have a limited shelf life.

3. Don't buy inoculant that's been stored in a dry, warm place or has been exposed to direct sunlight.

4. Store in a cool, dry place or refrigerator (don't freeze) until ready for use.

5. Mix seed and inoculate the day you plan to seed and try to keep it out of direct sunlight. Unused seed will require re-inoculation after 24 hours.

6. Fertilizer can cause serious losses of bacteria if mixed with inoculated seed.

7. Plant inoculated seed in a moist seedbed at recommended rates. Dry soil and exposure to sunlight will decrease bacteria numbers.

8. Inoculants are legume specific. Check that you are buying inoculant for the type of legume you are planting.

The success of legume inoculation can be measured by checking the roots for the number, size and color of the nodules. Pink to red coloration will indicate active nitrogen fixation.

By following these pointers and package instructions for proper inoculation, forage yields can be greatly increased at a minimal cost.

Achievement nominations accepted

Summer farm employment applications now available

By Shirley Cripps, M.L.A.

I have had some concerns raised on fertilizer price increases.

The minister is monitoring prices in 45 centres in the province. Since the Price Protection Plan is paid to the farmer — he can shop around. If you have concrete examples of undue increases, contact can be made to the Department of Agriculture.

The applications for the summer farm employment program are now available. Please contact either Doug Walkey, Drayton Valley District Agriculturist at 542-5088 or Reg Yand, manager of the Farm Labor Pool at 474-8277 in Edmonton.

Nominations are now being accepted for the 1985 Alberta Achievement Awards. The achievement awards program was established to give Albertans the opportunity to honor individuals or groups who have made a significant contribution to the enrichment of life in Alberta. There are three categories of awards: performance, service and excellence.

Service awards are given to people who have made exceptional contributions in a voluntary capacity over a period of 10 years or more, and whose actions have had an impact — provincial, regional or wide community significance.

I would like to extend a warm welcome to Bev Brooks, a district home economist, who is transferring from the Evansburg office of Alberta Agriculture to the Drayton Valley office this month.

The Alberta government and the Canadian government signed a Memorandum of Understanding on science and technology on April 22.

The objective of the memorandum is to confirm the commitment of Canada and Alberta to work together to ensure that their research, science and technology activities in Alberta are with Shirley Cripps complementary and appropriate to the province's needs and opportunities, and in line with its economic and regional development objectives.

Canada and Alberta agree that their initial priority areas will include: agriculture, cold regions, energy, forestry, lasers, medical equipment, systems, drugs and diagnostics, radio astronomy, microelectronics, computer aided design/manufacturing and software development, and specialty transportation equipment.

Mary J. LeMessurier, Minister of Culture and Don Sparrow, Associate Minister of Public Lands and Wildlife and M.L.A. for Wetaskiwin-Leduc, announced a Ministers' Advisory Committee for the Reynolds-Alberta Museum in Wetaskiwin.

Appointed to the advisory board are: Dallas Schmidt, chairman; and members, Stan Reynolds, Mike Power, Doug Sirra, Sam Mouss, Hank Colbourne and John Van Doeburg as secretary.

The purpose of the Reynolds-Alberta Museum Advisory Board is to advise the minister of culture with regard to establishing the building of the facility as well as the operations, servicing and landscaping.

While the legislature is sitting I can be reached in my Edmonton office during the week at 427-1848 (toll free Zenith 22333). My Drayton Valley constituency office is open Mondays and Wednesdays. The number is 542-9355. My residence phone number is 682-3758.

Meals On Wheels needs volunteer drivers

Wanted!! Anyone with a car and a driver's license who is willing to do some volunteer work.

With summer just around the corner, Meals On Wheels needs drivers to replace volunteers who are going on holiday.

The drivers donate about one-half hour a day delivering noon meals to our clients, said volunteer co-ordinator Wendy Dawkins.

"We have 10 clients and most of them are elderly people who live in the Wishing Well Apartments."

Meals are delivered Monday to Friday, as well as statutory holidays.

Clients pay for their food which is prepared at the Shagbilla Lodge, Dawkins added.

In operation since May 1979, Meals On Wheels is not government-funded so it must solicit its own funds. Individuals and organizations such as the Royal Canadian Legion have been very generous, she said.

"We always accept donations."

Anyone interested in volunteering a minimum of one day a month can call 542-5571, 542-3216 or 542-4096. New volunteers are given an orientation session.

Busy builder

Bricklayer Lou Hampel of Red Deer Masonry has a big job ahead at the new senior citizens' complex in Drayton Valley. While the bricklayers are busy outside, contractors are working indoors on the new two-storey project.

Care needed in picking out bedding plants

With spring here, home gardeners in Alberta will soon be visiting garden centres to buy bedding plants.

When selecting bedding plants certain things should be considered to ensure good quality, says Mrza Mohyuddin of the Alberta tree nursery and horticultural centre.

Look for plants that are a uniform dark green with no yellow lower leaves. Plants should be compact (as wide as they are tall).

Watch for overgrown plants which tend to fall over on themselves. Some varieties, however, are normally taller, e.g. tall marigolds versus dwarf marigolds. These are usually shipped from outside the province where they've been grown in warmer temperatures. Generally, Alberta-grown crops are very good and do not suffer from this problem.

Mohyuddin cautions gardeners from buying bedding plants too early. "Don't rush into it," he says, "buy after there is no danger of frost." Exceptions to this are plants like geraniums and begonias which can be kept indoors until they can be planted outside.

When buying tomato plants, again, make sure there are no lower leaves. Buy plants potted in four- or six-inch pots. Avoid overgrown tomato plants since they tend to be vegetative, resulting in less fruit.

Calf tour ends

By Sylvia Robb

We had our final calf tour on April 27 which started at the home of Diane Whitlock. Then it was on to the home of Flen Holmgren where we had a delicious potluck lunch. After lunch Wolf showed us how to make our calves stand properly and also gave us tips on calf grooming.

We then went on to Berry's, Davidson's, Martin's Reps', Robb's and Szala's.

This will be very exciting for us until May 27, which is our achievement day and also the day when we have to say good-bye to our calves.

Third year for challenge

PARTICIPaction dares nation to be fit

By Russ Kisby

On May 29, 1985, an estimated 2.5 million Canadians will take part in what might be the country's largest mass participation event outside of elections — The PARTICIPAction Challenge!

The Challenge, you'll remember, is PARTICIPAction's contribution to National Physical Activity Week. So, for the third year in a row, certain Canadian cities will "challenge" others of the same population range, to turn out more citizens on Challenge Day to be physically active for 15 consecutive minutes and report their achievement to the local Challenge committee.

Winning cities will be declared a "Fittest City in Canada".

Taking on all comers as Challenge host cities this year: City of Nelson in the population range of fewer than 10,000; Town of Labrador City, 10,000-29,999; City of Fredericton, 30,000-49,999; City of St. John's, 70,000-249,999; and City of Toronto, 250,000 and above.

We held a press conference at the end of January to announce this year's Challenge. The Honourable Otto Jelinek, federal Minister of State for Fitness and Amateur Sport attended, since his department contributes to The Challenge.

Also on the date: the Honourable Reuben C. Baetz, Ontario's erstwhile Minister of Tourism and Recreation since this year, and Sports and Fitness Ontario has climbed on The Challenge Bandwagon.

Robert A. Bandeen, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Crown Life Insurance Company, whose generous support as exclusive corporate sponsor helped make The Challenge possible also appeared, as did His Worship Art Eggleton, Mayor of Toronto.

I represented PARTICIPAction, of course. The press conference turned out to be as much fun as The Challenge itself!

We had set out stationary exercise bicycles for each of the VIPs — a kind of theme treatment for the up-coming event.

Well, everybody good-naturedly took a turn pedalling for the photographers — then the ad-libbing began. I think it was Otto Jelinek who told Reuben Baetz to slow down because he didn't like the idea of the provinces going faster than the feds.

And I think Robert Bandeen offered the opinion to his elected colleagues that their behaviour was quite typical of government: pedalling fast and getting nowhere!

Naturally, the press ate it up — and you might have seen the coverage we got on television, radio and in the newspapers.

At this writing, more than 150 communities have accepted The Challenge and we expect that on Challenge Day more than 200 cities and towns will be cycling, walking, jogging, swimming, tossing balls of various sizes and having a good time.

If your community hasn't accepted The Challenge yet, tell your mayor to get involved. Maybe you'd like to volunteer for your local Challenge committee! In any case, contact Mrs. Parry LeDrew for more information at PARTICIPAction, 805-89 Richmond St. West, Toronto, ON, M5H 2A4.

And then, on Challenge Day itself, show your commitment to an active lifestyle — as PARTICIPActions ads say: "Let's See You Do It!"

Russ Kisby is president of PARTICIPAction, the Canadian movement for personal fitness.

Spring season brings bugs

By Bev Brooks
District home economist

What are these bugs? This is a common question this time of year in any Alberta Agriculture office. Spring and summer tend to bring with them bugs in kitchen cupboards and judging from the calls we've been getting, this year isn't an exception.

If you've noticed these small brown insects in your cupboards, they are likely larger beetles or merchant grain beetles. The adult beetle is about 3mm (1/8-1/4") long and has a flat body. This makes it easy for them to get into packaged foods through tiny cracks and folds. They can chew through waxed paper, thin plastic and thin metal foil. The adult lays eggs in stored foods or in cracks in cupboards where food particles can fall. These beetles multiply rapidly and feed on a wide variety of foods including breakfast cereals, flour, meal, macaroni, spaghetti, rice, dried fruit and meat, chocolate, shelled nuts, spices and dry pet foods.

CONTROL

The first thing you do if you see merchant grain beetles or larger beetles in or around your cupboard, is to find where they are breeding. To find this source of infestation examine all food in the cupboard, especially products that have been stored for some time. Destroy the infested food by burning or freezing. It is important not to place infested foods in garbage containers without first destroying the bug. If you don't destroy the bug a new infestation could start.

After you've removed the contents of your infested cupboards treat them with propoxur. Using a household sprayer or paint brush, thoroughly wet the interior surfaces of the cupboards, especially along cracks and crevices. Do not treat countertops or other surfaces that food may come in contact with. If you use a spray cover food, containers, cooking utensils and dishes before spraying.

Wait until the insecticide has dried before replacing your packages and dishes. If you wish, you can cover the shelves and the bottoms of drawers with paper.

PREVENTION

Take the following precautions to keep food free of pests:

- Buy only in small quantities, especially during the summer and if you don't use the food regularly.
- Carefully examine all food products and packages when you get them home, to make sure they are free of beetles.
- Keep storage areas clean and dry.
- Store foods in as cool a place as possible.
- Store surplus foods in insect-proof containers such as lightly sealed jars. (Some kitchen canisters do not keep insects out because the lids do not fit tightly.)
- Clean containers thoroughly before placing fresh food in them. Never add new food to old.

Semi-fruitful Capricorn is time to plant

May 8-10 will find us in the semi-fruitful earth sign of Capricorn. Since it is third quarter and the moon is decreasing, this is the time to plant potatoes and other tubers. Move perennial roots and trim hedges to retard their growth.

Dock, dehorn or castrate animals.

If you have animals to sell, the time to sell them is now or in fourth quarter for the best prices. Buy in first quarter when when you can for prices are lowest then.

May 11 the moon moves into fourth quarter as well as into the barren air sign of Aquarius.

This is the time to plough or rototill and the time to dig up weedy patches and try to get rid of plants and insects. It is not a good time to plant.

Aquarius brings out the humane instincts in man so share your concern for animals or get involved in some plan to protect those over which we have dominion. Activist groups in England are spraying butcher shops with the slogan "meat is murder" and they have given Canadian Furs a lot of trouble over baby seals. Now they are fighting experiments on animals. The warning is clear, however, as we enter the age of Aquarius.

Idealism can lack a concept of all the repercussions and can cause more problems than it solves.

A Farm Wife's Almanac

by Joanne Bengier

Still, at this time it is fun to dabble at being a good saviour of the animals.

May 13-14 will find us in the fertile water sign of Pisces and still with a decreasing moon. Plant potatoes and all root crops. Irrigate. Apply manures and other organic fertilizers. Move bulbs and roots. Prune trees.

Pisces is home for Neptune, the planet of vagueness and deception. Everything will be a little fuzzy. Avoid making important decisions.

This is when imagination stars. Escapist activities are favored.

People who discuss their problems now can easily be manipulated. This is good if they are discussed with someone wise and well-trained.

Retreat and contemplation are the order of the day. Hang on to what you have. Wait till later to check facts and read fine print.

Whose lucky week is it?

Capricorn is our luckiest sign. Most fortunate birthdays fall between Jan. 7 and 14 until the 11th and between the 15th and 20th of January the rest of the week and until New Moon. The lucky number to remember is 2. Two is the number of bulge as well as of contrast. Its sign is the parallel lines.

Important days this week

The old saying is "Don't toss a clout till May is out" and we are coming to May 11, 12 and 13 — the days of the ice or vintage saints, Mamertus, Pancras and Gervais. Superstition has it that there will be a sudden drop of temperatures and even ice at this time.

May 12 is Mothers' Day, which dates back to 1907 when Miss Anna Jarvis had a special service for mothers in Philadelphia. She used white carnations to symbolize mothers, but people wanted more color! Now it is customary to wear a colored carnation if your mother is alive and a white carnation if your mother is dead.

Spring values are popping up all over in the Classifieds.

FINANCING ALBERTA BUSINESS

A Family Business Expands

Wedin's. When you shop in the Ponoka/Central Alberta area you know the name. Eight years ago

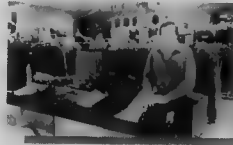

Murray Wedin decided to expand that reputation. The plan? A building expansion from 3,000 to 16,000 square feet.

Murray's concept matched Ponoka's need for a good-sized department store with men's, ladies' and children's clothes, shoes and household products. He presented his need for financing to conventional lenders and, ultimately, to AOC.

AOC reviewed Murray's plans and their potential. It was an opportunity worthy of financial support.

The new store opened in 1978. Today Wedin's is recognized as one

Offer of 'get rich quick' is con man's tool

By Lynn Wright

Alberta Consumer and Corporate Affairs
"Past! Listen to me. I'll fulfill your dreams. Live the good life with little work," the con man crouches temptingly. "Something for nothing. Something for nothing." Wake up!

The con artist understands the psychology of your desire. Surely you've read his slick advertisement.

"The sky's the limit! This is like no other offer you've ever had. Send $5 for details — a nominal fee — because you can't expect something for nothing."

"Hush, hush. Limited offer only. We don't want a crowd, just you."

"Fully guaranteed!"

Sound familiar?

Con men are master copywriters. 'Get-rich-quick' ads are typically so ingenious that the unsuspecting candidate may actually perceive what he wishes to read: namely, that he can get something for nothing.

Resorting to that most simplistic form of persuasion, reverse psychology, the schemers ads even go so far as to disclaim any likeness between their deals and fraudulent deals. "How can I be sure that this deal is all that you say it is?" an ad has you ask yourself. "We are legally bound by law," it boldly proclaims.

Many ads are so carefully worded that nothing is promised that isn't delivered. The victim just expects something more.

Many 'get-rich-quick' and 'work-at-home' schemes work on the same principle: the victim buys from the distributor the materials necessary to start a business such as brochures, books or equipment. Unsure of what to expect, the victim has already paid his money and is rewarded with disappointment.

The 'envelope stuffing' scam is a shocker. You read the ad, and seeking more details, send a few dollars in a pre-addressed envelope. You then receive a letter asking for more money in return for an information kit on how to make big bucks. The kit turns out to be a booklet explaining how you too can place a similar ad in the paper, preying on others as the con man has preyed on you.

"Make left-handed chicken pluckers in your spare time. Big demand! Big money!" Sounds absurd, doesn't it? But some 'work-at-home' production schemes are equally phoney.

A deal can seem foolproof. You buy from the supplier the equipment necessary to manufacture baby booties, plant pots or even airplane parts at home. The supplier guarantees that he will purchase your products if they are of quality workmanship. The catch is that nothing you produce ever meets the supplier's rigid standards, so you are left to sell the goods yourself — if you can. These are but a few of the more prevalent schemes. In general, beware of offers that guarantee such things as large profits for little work, or an unlimited market for your produced goods.

Also beware of offers that require you to send money before you are informed of the deal's specifics ("as a sign of good faith on your part").

And remember, if an offer sounds too good to be true, chances are it is.

Wildwood youth to work in mission

Terry Crosby, a 15 year-old Wildwood high school student, has been accepted to serve on a work/witness team in Haiti this summer.

According to Mission Outreach in Bethany, Missouri, Crosby will be on a team consisting of 20 young people and four leaders.

The Grade 9 Wildwood student is scheduled to arrive at the Mission Outreach training centre June 23. He will be among 300 high school and college young people from Canada and the U.S., ages 13 and up, who will undergo 10 days of intensive training.

The summer missionaries will learn survival skills, washing clothes by hand, bathing from a dish tub, basic construction skills and how to share the faith in Jesus with others.

Terry Crosby

In Haiti the team will be working with the Haitian Baptist Convention. Often referred to as 'little Africa', the country of Haiti is one the most poverty stricken in the western hemisphere.

Mission Outreach is an interdenominational faith, no-profit mission that sends youth work/witness teams during the summer and adult teams in the world to help establish winter around the ed missions.

ARIES

(March 21-April 20) This will be an unusually lively week for romance. Be careful of traps. Your common sense will lead you in the right direction.

TAURUS

(April 21-May 21) If you are having trouble communicating this week, don't become too discouraged. It may not just be you. Keep interactions brief and as light as possible.

GEMINI

(May 22-June 21) Don't labor too hard on one particular thing. You will cover more ground if you jump around from project to project. Your social life will pick up around Thursday.

CANCER

(June 22-July 23) Do not probe too deeply into a friend's affairs unless you are willing to deal with the consequences. You may find that you and your friend share even more than either of you realized.

LEO

(July 24-Aug. 23) Your patience will be tested both at home and in your job. Don't let yourself be pushed around. Be firm, yet tolerant. By the weekend, you will have an overwhelming desire to get away from it all.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24-Sept. 23) Your natural tendency to cater to others will come in handy this week. Give yourself a break too. Use the evenings and the weekend to enjoy the solitude you have missed all week.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24-Oct. 23) Don't exhaust yourself by taking care of the problems of others until you have tended to your own. Try to find a new system for budgeting yourself. Spend time with friends.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24-Nov. 23) An opportunity for a change will come along by the middle of the week. Don't close the door because you fear that the timing is wrong. This is the precise time to try something different.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 24-Dec. 23) This is your time to find a way out of a stifling relationship. Don't be afraid to express your true feelings. Let yourself explore the unknown in the fashion in which you've always dreamed.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22-Jan. 20) Let the added dimension of being in competition with someone enhance your performance. Show your true colors. Your outstanding skills will shine.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21-Feb. 19) Your ability to present yourself well will be a bonus this week. Make it clear that you are ready to advance. The confidence you exude will be beneficial in your personal life as well.

PISCES

(Feb. 20-March 20) Fatigue on Tuesday and Wednesday will slow you down considerably. Unravel complex problems later in the week. The weekend will be a good time to take care of domestic chores.
